Gala Bingo has announced that Claire Petulengro, one of Britain's most popular clairvoyants and astrologers, will be joining Gala TV to present her first weekly live television show.

From the start of May 2009, Claire will be co-hosting the first hour-long 'Horoscope Bingo' show on Gala TV which will provide its game-play community with insightful star sign predictions as well as lucky bingo tips and eight bingo games. The show will also run nightly competitions to win signed copies of Claire's latest book 'life signs'.

Claire already has many years experience of advising the British public on how to handle the odds life throws at them through her astrology columns for popular magazines such as Company, Pick Me Up and the Mirror's We Love Telly magazines.

Claire said: "I'm delighted to be joining Gala TV as I know many bingo players follow my horoscopes in the newspapers, online and on their mobile phones. I can't wait to reveal what the stars hold in store for viewers in terms of luck, love, money and life."

She added: "It's great that, in addition to reading my columns, people will now be able to actually see me on their television screens and even ask me specific questions by text or email when I'm on air."

Gala TV's head of marketing Clive Cottrell said: "We're really pleased that Claire Petulengro is joining our existing line up of popular presenters. We think Claire's expertise and advice will be a hit with our viewers and a welcome addition to Gala TV, which is the only live studio-based bingo show offering high level audience interaction."

Horoscope Bingo will be showing at 8pm every Friday evening in May 2009 and viewers will be able to text or email Claire live Gala TV. Gala TV is broadcast on Sky and Freesat channel 861 as well as being streamed on the Gala Bingo website.
