Jay Suites, a leading provider of luxurious office space, recently had the grand opening of its Grand Central location. Situated in the heart of the big apple, the center offers an exceptional identity to any business, with solutions ranging from fully-furnished office space to virtual office plans. Conference rooms, break rooms with complete kitchen facility, and other business services are available as well. Jay Suites is founded on an innovative concept that aims to create a professional, supportive environment by combining exceptional design with cutting-edge technology. The company currently operates a center in Manhattan's financial district, and is preparing to open another in world-renowned Rockefeller Center.
