London, England (UK), 4/6/2009 - Best Pills Inc is proud to announce the grand launching of their new, widely prescribed prescription drug website – bestpills.co.uk.

The site is unique in its offering of popularly prescribed “discreet” prescription drugs, for which there has emerged a large public demand. Best Pills does not require a prior prescription on these Rx drugs. Rather, they offer their customers the utmost of discretion by providing free, onsite, anonymous medical consultations and customer support.

As Peter Ross, company manager explains, “Best Pills fills a particular niche in the pharmacology market, in that it provides its customers with popularly prescribed medical drugs, without requiring them to endure the hassle or embarrassment associated with their purchase”.

Peter Ross went on to explain how Best Pills prides itself on its accommodation of customer privacy “We understand that many of the drugs which we offer may be associated with certain public stigmas, and so we at Best Pills make sure to offer our customers the highest of Company standards in regards to privacy and discretion”.

Best Pills.co.uk employs a 24 hour online customer support team to aid their customers in placing their orders. The site also utilizes the internet security services of the well known Online security authority, Geo Trust, guaranteeing its customers steady-fast protection of all their personal information and private details. Customers are able to order their prescriptions online, from the privacy of their own homes, and have the products shipped safely and discreetly straight to their front doorsteps.
