Palazzi Motor Cars re design's The Godfather Roadster

(Kingsville, Ontario, Canada May 10th 2010) Tony Palazzi of PalazziMotorcars.com released the new handcrafted, Limited Edition XLR Godfather Roadster, the ultimate 400 to 500 horse power art deco restyling of the Cadillac XLR, created by Master Builder Tony Palazzi.

The Godfather Roadster is a luxurious car that was transformed by Master Builder Tony Palazzi of Palazzi Motorcars. Designed to reflect Excalibur-style design and built upon General Motor Company's automotive technology, the spirited craftsmanship of the Godfather Roadster is unparalleled in the line-up of customized automobiles.

"Throughout my career, I've created many stylish cars – but the Godfather Roadster is the ultimate. It is an instant classic – with the heritage and visual characteristics of yesterday and all of the conveniences of today's automobiles," explained Tony Palazzi, Master Builder. "This is a beautiful automobile. It begins with my original handcrafted Godfather Roadster design and offers the ultimate GM performance under the hood. Each car is further personalized to reflect the individuality of each customer. Driving this Roadster, each customer will feel like the Godfather."

ABOUT THE GODFATHER ROADSTER

The Godfather Roadster is a spirited, limited series automobile, each painstakingly handcrafted by Palazzi Motorcars. Built on the 2002-2005 Ford T-bird body, as well as the 2004- -2010 Cadillac XLR body.

Godfather Roadster offers exceptional front, side and rear art deco styling. The curvy Roadster edition is equipped with the best of both worlds – it offers a nod to the past with nostalgic lines and iconic details, and boasts the advanced technology and reliability of cars of today.
